At the election, held in the 2nd ward on Saturday, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Joshua Manly Atter, American, received 92 votes, and Armstrong, received 57. Respectable majority thus.

Our friend Boyer has again fitted up his old stand, and is serving up the best ice-cream we have ever tasted. It is smooth, fine, and of unequalled flavor. His rooms are well furnished and very comfortable. Give him a call, and try some of the good things of life.

We recommend all those who are fond of good eating, to patronize "Billy Patterson's" Saloon, on 3d Street, opposite the Citizens' Bank; where they can find all kinds of eatables, good enough to tempt the appetite of an epicure. "Billy" does up things in the right kind of style, and there is no danger of any one leaving with an empty stomach. He keeps constantly on hand, and fresh from the oven, every variety of cakes and pies, that are too good to talk about. Also ice-cream of the best quality, and confectioneries of every description.

KNOW NOTHINGISM IN KANSAS.—The Atesian papers in Missouri are all advocates of Know Nothingism. We have seen it stated in several quarters, and have no doubt that the truth of the statements will ultimately be established, that the drunken Missouri hordes were congregated and precipitated upon Kansas by means of Know Nothing councils and orators.—Union.

We think it more likely to have been done by the pro-slavery party that gave these "drunken Missouri hordes" an opportunity to trample on the rights of those who did not wish the territory to be cursed with the "peculiar institution."

Blackwoods Magazine for April, is on our table. It is, as usual, very interesting. The contents are "How to dress him," Psychological enquiries, "Zaidy," a Romance, part 5. Notes on Canada and the North-West States of America. Charles Dickens. The death of Nicholas, &c. Blackwood is a valuable book, at this time especially; since it contains some excellent articles concerning "the war" and its progress, and all who are desirous of informing themselves on this subject should subscribe for it.

Price of Blackwood and any of the four Reviews, $5 the four Reviews and Blackwood, $10. Postage (payable quarterly in advance) on Blackwood and the four Reviews, 80 cents a year, viz: 24 cents a year on Blackwood, and 14 cents a year on each of the Reviews.

John Folks, charged under two indictments with robbing the mail at Monticello, in this county, had a hearing last week in the Circuit Court of the United States, now in session in Cincinnati, and was cleared in both cases. His innocence was so clearly and conclusively established that the jury was out but a few minutes before they returned with a verdict of "not guilty." It will be a source of gratification to Mr. Folks' numerous friends to learn that he has thus triumphantly vindicated and sustained his character and standing.

Mr. Upham, Attorney for Mr. Folks, won honor by the able and judicious manner in which he discharged the duties that devolved upon him, and fully established the fine legal reputation he has long sustained. The argument he made in one of the cases, to which we listened, was able, forcible and eloquent and would have reflected credit on any jurist in the State.—Ohio Patriot.

Ex-Governor Metcalf, of Kentucky, has written a letter giving his opinion of the new American organization. He says "that foreigners should be content to share with the native-born the blessings which the laws of our country guarantee, without insisting upon the right to seize the reins of Government. It is the Ex-Governor's opinion that all the evils with which we are surrounded have been brought upon us by the demagogues of the old corrupt parties, and by adopting the principle that to the victors belong the spoils."

BARE NECKS AND BOSOMS.—The fashion in Washington during the past winter has been carried to the verge of model artist exhibitions. Low neck dresses have been all the go. A good story is told of a country man being asked, after leaving one of the Presidential levees, if he had ever seen such a sight before. "No," was the emphatic reply, "not since I was weaned!"

Important to Farmers.

We are informed by Mr. Chamberlain of the City Mill, that the Farmers of Vermont are in the habit of heading the movements of the Weevil, by a very simple process. The next season after it makes its appearance, they go through their wheat fields, about the time the wheat is staling or heading, immediately after a shower or while the dew is on it, and scatter weevily shelled line broadcast, so that it will adhere to the heads and stems of the grain. They use about a bushel to the acre, (foot line should be secured, and slacked by sprinkling a little water over it, so as to retain all its strength. A piddle may be used in scattering it. The remedy has, it is said, been so effectually tried, as to leave no doubt of the result. Strips in large wheat fields left untouched by the line, for experiment, have been entirely destroyed by the weevil, while the grain on each side was all saved.

It is well known by all who may have observed the manner in which the weevils destroy wheat, that they are deposited in the kernel, in shape of a small red maggot, by a fly, soon after the kernel begins to head, and as the kernel begins to form, they commence their work of destruction by consuming the milky substance that would otherwise form the kernel, thereby preventing it from filling.

The application of lime at this period in the growth of the wheat, seems to be repugnant to the taste of the weevil, as to drive it off. The lime will more than repay its value in the improvement of the soil.—Akron Beacon.

Sword for General John E. Wool. By a resolution of Congress approved January 24th, 1854, provision was made to present Major General John E. Wool, a token of the appreciation by his country of the services rendered by him in the memorable battle of Buena Vista, in which he so gallantly distinguished himself.

The work of manufacturing the beautiful present was given to Mr. Samuel Jackson, of No. 194, Baltimore street, and it is now completed, being one of the most beautiful things of the kind in the country. The blade is thirty-one and a quarter inches long, of the finest cast steel, and embellished with national devices. The hilt is of gold, and is a specimen of rare workmanship. The design is an ear of corn, half concealed by the leaves of the sheath surrounding it. The upper part is a shield bearing the words "Buena Vista, Feb. 22 and 23, 1847." The eyes of the eagle are diamonds. The cross of the hilt is the Mexican coat of arms, the serpent and eagle, very heavily wrought, the eyes of the serpent being garnets. The scabbard is of silver, thickly plated with gold, and ornamented with solid gold bands and rings. The end of the scabbard is of solid gold and of unique design. The sword was made after a design from Lieutenant Ponton, and cost $1,500. It is a token of respect worthy a gallant soldier, and should the cause of his country demand it, there is no doubt but its keen blade would do good service in the protection of the honor of the nation, while wielded by the hero of Buena Vista.

No SCARCITY OF FLOUR.—The Buffalo Republic rebukes the croaking about the scarcity of flour at present in this country, and states that it is in possession of information that fully warrants the expectation that the following quantities will arrive at that port this season: From Lake Michigan, 650,000 barrels; from Detroit, 123,000 barrels; from Toledo, 100,000 barrels; from Cleveland, 50,000 barrels—making a total of 923,000 barrels of flour to come forward before harvest, "exclusive of Canada." The Republic adds that it has no means of estimating the amount that will be received from Canada, but learns from gentlemen whose means of information are extensive, that it will not be less than a quarter of a million of barrels, and may be four times that amount.

From the American Enterprise. OBITUARY. Died on Monday, the 23rd day of April, at his late residence in Titonville, Jefferson County, Ohio, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman, in the 47th year of her age.

In the death of this esteemed sister, a void has been made of more than an ordinary character. As a neighbor and a friend, her kindness was almost unbounded; she manifested a disposition under all circumstances, to relieve distress wherever she witnessed it, often forgetting her own personal interest and welfare in order to soothe the bitter pangs of disease, and tender consolation to the wounded heart. While she was young, living at home under the paternal roof, she was obedient and mindful of honoring her father and mother, as a dutiful child, especially in receiving their kind and early instructions, which more exemplified its effect in her life in advanced years, as she grew up to womanhood; as a sister, she was affectionate and attentive, and those to whom she bore that tender relation will feel most deeply their irreplaceable loss; they will miss her sympathetic heart, that never bent but in unison with theirs, and which was ever ready to weep with them in every season of darkness and time of affliction. But it was as a mother, the nearest, the dearest, and most engaging of all earthly relations, that her kindness, virtue and love, shone out in a pre-eminent degree, and the only anxiety on her mind while suffering, was the good of her children; but she being sensible of her condition, knowing she must leave her family, she murmured not; at times finding herself very weak, she would call for her husband and children, and have them gathered around her bed. She requested them to bear her dissolution—now at hand—with Christian courage, and not to weep and grieve, as it was an event she had been preparing for, a long time, and now as the time had arrived, she was prepared to meet it. She exhorted her children to bear in mind, and remember the things she had told them, to live pious, be good, and prepare to meet her in heaven.

She was a member of the M. E. Church upwards of twenty years, and as a communicant in the church, her deportment was exemplary. She was humble in her profession, but high in her attainments, and no doubt for her to have lived would have been Christ, but to die was gain. Her affections were weaned from earth and given to heaven. Her confidence was placed upon the rock of ages. Her heart was given to Christ, and when the shades of death, with all their horror and gloom, were thickening and gathering around her dying body, all was calmness and composure, a peaceful resignation lighted up her countenance, while entering the dark valley and shadow of death, fearing no evil, leaning upon the bosom of him whose rod and staff was her only support, and of whom she gave evidence, testifying with her last words she had always loved. Her remains were followed to the grave by a large circle of her immediate friends.

Afflicted and bereaved relatives of the deceased, let us not weep as those who have no hope; our friend has gone—gone from our association on earth to a home in heaven, she has left a better example, an example that can never be forgotten. The counsels which she gave while living, even in good health, and while passing away under her long disease, and the virtues which adorned her life and character, can never perish, they will live and flourish until the last particle of her mouldering form shall have mingled with its native dust, and the green sod that now covers her peaceful breast, shall no longer indicate her resting place.
